

Biogel Eclipse.
A giant leap for surgical gloves.

Biogel Eclipse is the new surgical glove from the makers of Biogel, the world's leading glove manufacturer – it's innovation that will create a standard that eclipses all others.

Biogel Eclipse is made from an entirely new form of natural latex that's deproteinised to minimise extractable protein content, helping reduce allergenic potential.¹

And in terms of fit and feel it's the most comfortable experience in surgical space, providing a level of sensitivity that's a significant step forward.

Biogel Eclipse Deproteinised latex™
Setting the standard in protection

Reference: 1. WP ref: FGC04034. Data on file at Regent Medical.

Regent Medical | Regent Medical Ltd, Two Omega Drive, Irlam, Manchester M44 5BJ, UK. Tel: 0161 777 2600. E-mail: info@regentmedical.com Website: www.regentmedical.com Regent Medical, the Regent Medical logo, Biogel and Biogel Eclipse are trademarks registered in the UK, US and/or other countries globally and are owned by Regent Medical Limited.